

WELCOME BACK WEEKEND

May 5-6

This time of year, Prophetstown State Park welcomes back many things - more sunshine, warmer days, spring wildflowers, migrating animals, and campers! Join us for one or all of these fun welcoming programs. And don't forget to stop by the main office (from 8:30 – 4:00pm each day) where we have new interpretive displays about Prophetstown's plants, animals, and history.

Saturday, May 4th

9:00am – Welcome Back Wildflowers Hike: Join us on this early morning hike to see what wildflowers we'll welcome back this year. Each season showcases some of the park's most beautiful flowers, and we'll get an up-close look at some. Meet at the Farm parking lot.

12:00-4:00pm – Native American Gardening at the Village: Join us at the Native American village as we welcome warmer weather and put in some heritage variety plants and more. Park at the Farm and walk the trail back, or park at the Main Office and safely cross the road.

7:00pm – S'mores and More!: We'll make delicious treats by the campfire and play some fun games about our state park history, animals, plants, and more! You bring your camp chair, and we'll bring the s'mores! Meet at Campsite #251.

Sunday, May 5th

10:00am – Welcome Back Birds: Besides campers, the park is welcoming back some of our Indiana birds. Join us for this easy hike as we check on three of our eastern bluebird houses to see if anyone has taken up residence. Bring binoculars if you have them; we'll have a few extra to share. Meet at the Campground Shower Building. 45min- easy hike
